

By: Carolina Bado

- (1) A customer can make zero to many orders, but an order can only have one customer.
- (2) One order can be of one to many book, an a book can only be from one order.
- (3) A license is for one and only one book, and a book has a one and only license.
- (4) A distributor can sell one to many books, the books can have only one distributor.
- (5) A distributor provide multiple licenses, but licenses can come from one and only one distributor.